THE CONNERSVILLE TRAGEDY. [Special Telegram to the SENTINEL.]

Connersville, Sept. 1.—The city is terribly agitated over the double tragedy of yesterday. The crowd which attacked the Morgan den with the intention of tearing down the house and mobbing the inmates was led by a man named Christian Christman. Not far from the scene of the crime, a door there was met by Chas. Christman, of Richmond, at least that is the name reported, who attempted to expose the condition of trustee Hamilton and finding that of no avail,

FIRST EDITION. 2 O'CLOCK. CABLEGRAMS.

Partial Failure of the Crops in Italy—Labor Matters in England.

The Bullion Boom From Britain—More Big Failures.

Great Britain. FINANCIAL.

London, Aug. 2.—In addition to the gold withdrawn from the Bank of England yesterday, £50,000, the amount received from the east, £169,000, was disposed of as anticipated for shipment to New York.

FAILURE.

Field & Sons, warehousemen and manufacturers of straw and leghorn hats and bonnets, have failed. Liabilities believed to be large.

John McIntosh, declared a defaulter on the Stock Exchange yesterday, has failed. The failure is due to the fact that for a long period his clients had received large differences on Erie, but on the reaction they failed to pay.

COAL.

The principal coal dealers of Lancashire have advanced coal one shilling per ton, and wages six pence to a shilling per day.

A CUT IN WAGES.

Bollickow, Vaughan & Co.'s great iron and steel works have reduced wages 5 to 10 percent.

LABOR.

The reduction of wages by the Staffordshire earthenware and china makers is partly attributed to the American protective duties. The employers desire to return to the scale of wages paid in 1871. Five thousand workmen will be affected.

The proprietors of the Burnley coal fields give notice of a reduction in the price of coal and wages.

Thomas W. Booke & Co., sheet iron and tin plate works near Cardiff, in constant operation since 1740, were closed Saturday, by order of the official liquidator of the England and south Wales District Bank, and 1,500 workmen were paid off. Three villages had grown up around the works, the inhabitants consisting solely of working people and their families, and these, numbering 6,000, are now destitute.

OFF FOR PRACTICE.

RIOTOUS HOME RULERS.

Charles Stewart Parnell, home rule member of the house of commons for Meath, addressed a very disorderly mob of from 10,000 to 20,000 persons, in Limerick, on Saturday, upon the land question. He advised that farmers combine and pay no rent till they got a reduction. The crowd applauded the address and shouted in favor of shooting landlords and agents. The platform was finally stormed, and much crushing and fighting ensued.

VICTIMS OF THE FAMINE.

Calcutta, Sept. 1.—Over 6,100 people are still employed on the relief works in Bombay or receiving gratuitous rations.

ITALY.

THE CROPS.—Rome, Sept. 2.—Reports received by the minister of agriculture confirm the bad accounts concerning the crops. The yield of maize in several provinces is only half that of ordinary years, while in several places it is considerably below the average. The wheat crop is also generally unfavorable, the production being equal only to a third of that of 1878.

FRANCE.

SPAINS EX-QUEEN AND FUTURE QUEEN—London, Sept. 1.—A Spanish correspondent of the Standard, telegraphs that the Archduchess Marie has arrived there, and that she has been visited by ex-Queen Isabella. A Paris dispatch to the Daily News, reports that the Archduchess Marie has invited ex-Queen Isabella to her wedding, and Isabella has accepted the invitation.

WANTED.

WANTED—To exchange a farm of 50 acres of improved land, with house, barn and orchard, for a farm which will be promptly attended to. Railroad and excursion work a specialty.

CRIME AND CASUALTY.

THE SPRAGUE SCANDAL.—Narragansett Pier, Sept. 1.—Mrs. Kate Sprague escaped from Cononchet Saturday afternoon with her three children and part of her baggage. She has been kept by her husband under the closest surveillance since the scandal exploded, and could see no one and receive no letters except through him. Her escape was effected by strategy. Sprague will probably follow her and try to regain the children. No doubt is now entertained that a divorce suit will follow at once.

THE CONNERSVILLE TRAGEDY.

Connersville, Sept. 1.—The city is terribly agitated over the double tragedy of yesterday. The crowd which attacked the Morgan den with the intention of tearing down the house and mobbing the inmates was led by a man named Christian Christman. Not far from the scene of the crime, a door there was met by Chas. Christman, of Richmond, at least that is the name reported, who attempted to expose the condition of trustee Hamilton and finding that of no avail, wrested a revolver away from Dennis, who was threatening to shoot, and dealt him a blow which laid him at his feet. Christman then started to flee, all the time threatening to kill the first man who hated him and as he was known to be a rough party in a fracas he met with little opposition until confronted by Capt. Ben Johnson, who had been called upon to assist in his arrest. Capt. Johnson caught him first, and the weapon was turned aside, but before he could be secured Christman knocked down four men, and probably might have disabled more had Johnson used his mace. He was finally overpowered and locked up.

Dennis, who was struck by Christman, died within two hours, and this incensed the fury of his friends and those of Carroll, that shortly after dusk they razed the Morgan ranch to the ground. The inmates having timely warning, escaped. This den has been a blotch upon the name and fame of Cambridge City for several years, and no less than five murders are reported to have occurred within its walls.

It was here that Benson was drugged and robbed about eighteen months ago, in retaliation for which the citizens pulled the house down. But Morgans, having the daring and audacity of the devil, rebuilt and again commenced their infernal traffic. The tragedy of yesterday, however, is the last straw upon the back of the camel, and the temper of that community will never again tolerate their presence.

A BODY FOUND.

New York, Sept. 1.—The body of a boy has been picked up in the North River with his hands and feet securely bound.

YELLOW FEVER.

Two New Cases and Four Deaths Reported at Memphis To-day.

TWO NEW CASES.

Memphis, Sept. 2.—Two new cases were reported to the board of health this morning, Otto Sartoris and Dan'l Foulker.

FOUR DEATHS.

Four deaths have occurred since last night, George W. Matthews, Patrick McLane, Thomas McMason and Eugene Williams (colored).

EIGHT CASES AT BANTYNS.

The fever has evidently gained a foothold at Bantyn Station, six miles east of the city, on the Memphis and Charleston Railroad. Eight new cases are reported in that immediate neighborhood. J. C. Haick and wife, living in the same vicinity, were stricken yesterday.

On Saturday night some malicious persons threw a number of stones through the windows of the Clinton Street English Lutheran Church. The damage is about $100.

At Cedarvalley Sunday a boy drove his team into the river and becoming mired was extricated with great difficulty.

There were thirty-two marriage licenses issued by the county clerk during the month of August.

THE DEATH ROLL.

The Mortuary Record for the Month of August.

The following is the city mortuary record for the month of August:

MONDAY afternoon at 4 o'clock John Strodel had a difficulty with John Godfrey at his (Strodel's) saloon. The savage reached for his revolver, whereupon Strodel laid his head open with a beer glass and bled freely.

At 2 on Monday afternoon a lot of Pittsburgh men were working in front of the Olds factory, when a T rail fell on the foot of one of them, crushing and mangled it in a terrible manner. His name was not ascertained.

On Saturday night some malicious persons threw a number of stones through the windows of the Clinton Street English Lutheran Church. The damage is about $100.

At Cedarvalley Sunday a boy drove his team into the river and becoming mired was extricated with great difficulty.

There were thirty-two marriage licenses issued by the county clerk during the month of August.

The Rev. Griffith, of the A. M. E. Church at Jersey City, has a case under the civil rights law, having been refused ice cream on account of his complexion.

The Lawrence (Kas.) city council refused to levy the bond tax, ordered by the United States district court, and passed resolutions which set forth that the city cannot pay more than 50 percent on its indebtedness.

Judge Barnum, of Chicago, has decided that the military law enacted by the last Illinois legislature, prohibiting the carrying of arms except under permission by the state authorities, is void. It conflicts with the federal statutes in force since 1792.

During August the silver payments from the United States treasury and United States mints, amounted to $1,865,000, exclusive of the amount returned for silver certificates. The aggregate weight of the coin thus distributed was fifty-six tons.

Up to and including the 1st inst., the receipts of refunding certificates for conversion into 4 percent bonds aggregate $35,706,000. The total issues of the 4 percent loan by the treasury department amount to $740,795,300, leaving $7,266,000 not yet disposed of.

Revenue Agent Latham writes from Alabama that two witnesses for the government against moonshiners were whipped almost to death, and compelled to leave DeKalb county, and that in Union county, the armed band of distillers and sympathizers compelled the United States commissioner, a deputy marshal and two deputy collectors to leave the county, and the party being re-inforced returned.

King Stephen Pharaoh, aged fifty-eight, died of quick consumption near Montauk, Saturday. It is said he leaves no successor to reign in his stead over his tribe, and he was the last of the Montauk Indians that had free blood in their veins. It is reported that he visited several tribes of Indians in the west, and was once induced by Spotted Tail, when that chief was on a visit to New York, to accompany him to his reservation, Spotted Tail paying the entire expense of the journey.

FOREIGN FLASHES.

The United States government has officially demanded to be represented on the Egyptian debt commission.

There was another riot at Lurgan, Ireland, Sunday, and a Catholic funeral procession was stoned by a mob.

The fustian weavers at Oldham, numbering 3,000, have resumed work at Oldham, and the spinners are likely to follow.

The anarchist communists have reached Port Vendres in a destitute condition. There was no demonstration. Most of them go to Paris.

The English farmers who sailed for America Saturday were bound for the west, and were accompanied by eighteen wives.

The whaling ship Our Queen, of Dundee, Scotland, with fourteen whales, was caught in the ice in Lancaster Sound, between Baffins Bay and Barrow Straits, and crushed. Crew saved.

The Cuban government ordered that bills of health should only be given vessels by Spanish officers. Consuls must limit their intervention to certifying signatures and declaring their opinion about the sanitary condition of the port. Their order is directed against the United States law of June 2nd, 1873.

King Alfonso and the Archduchess Maria Christine will be married November 28th. It is believed that a commission composed of Spanish senators and deputies will go to Vienna to escort the bride to Spain, by the way of Trieste to Barcelona. The vessel conveying her to Barcelona will be escorted by four ironclads.

The viceroy of India doubtless will demand, the prompt withdrawal of the outrageous claim of the king of Burmah to Karrenne territory, and, if necessary, will enforce the demand by war. The best hope of avoiding hostilities lies in the probability that King Thebaw's claim is only one of his drunken freaks. The general opinion is that the king will avoid giving cause for it.

STATE NEWS.

The great rolling mill strike at Indianapolis has ended.

The corner stone of the new Catholic church at Cambridge City was laid last Sunday.

Delphi will have a grand celebration on Thursday in honor of the narrow gauge railroad completed at that place.

Al. Lybrook, of Richmond, has been appointed private secretary to Gen. John A. Bridgeland, consul at Havre, France.

Frank Fitzpatrick and Jack Donan were arrested at Bloomington, Saturday night, for an extensive plot of corn stealing.

Peter Leondiuk, a Lafayette car-penter, fell from the granary on the farm of Andrew Gates, Saturday, breaking three ribs and receiving other serious injuries.

A man named Copeland, living near Plainfield, while repairing a buzz saw last Saturday, had his right arm completely cut off. He is in a critical condition.

On last Saturday evening the ladies of the Trinity M. E. Church of Lafayette, presented their pastor, Rev. H. A. Gobin, with twenty volumes of John Ruskin's works.

A lad named Walters, son of the superintendent of the Richmond City mill works, while running in front of a moving train, Saturday evening, fell and had one leg cut off.

The water works committee of Lafayette, is still busy overhauling the accounts of Mr. James, late superintendent. It is now alleged that there is a failure of the books to balance in the sum of $5,000.

The old settlers' camp meeting convened last Saturday morning at Bloomington. On Sunday about 5,000 people were present, representing the counties of Monroe, Lawrence, Martin, Jackson, Green and Johnson.

George McWilliams, a prominent member of the congregation, and a leading democrat of the western, one of state, and democratic candidate for congress in 1870, died in his residence last Sunday, of typhoid fever.

Some time since Miss Susie Smith of Waveland, brought suit against Con Cunningham, a respectable and well known citizen of Crawfordsville, for seduction. The suit has been compromised, Cunningham paying Miss Smith $10,010 in cash.

Tom Andrews and Frank Pierson, two well-known negroes of Bloomington, engaged in a dispute, Saturday when Pierson drew a large knife and plunged it into Andrews's breast, inflicting a wound which will prove fatal. Pierson is under arrest.

James Camper, a farmer living near Terre Haute, was killed on Saturday night by one of his farm hands, named Taylor. The latter came home drunk, and being ordered to keep quiet assaulted Camper, and after a short struggle the latter dropped dead. Taylor fled.

SPORTING NOTES.

Base ball: Cincinnati 4, Cleveland 2.

The Minneapolis races begin to-day. Among the entries are Hopeful, Darby, Midnight, Massomani, Monarch, Rule and Little Gipsy.

The race between Smith and Ross, at Bedford Basin, Monday, was attended by an immense crowd. The water was smooth and lovely. Betting even. Smith won by a length and a half. Time, 20.45. Ross's defeat was unexpected, and St. John's men lost $10,000 on him.

The Rarus-Hopeful race at Quincy has been declared off on account of the sale of Rarus to Bonner. A $2,000 free-for-all purse has been substituted. The entries close Saturday next. Hopeful, Sleepy Tom, Mattie Hunter, Bowdy Boy, Lucy and seventy-five other horses will be on hand. The premiums aggregate $12,000.

Hanlon and Courtney decline to row the championship for a purse of $6,000, offered at Rochester. Hanlon declines on account of the large field the purse would attract, and Courtney because the championship is held in Australia, and because of the danger of a foul in a large field. He would row Hanlon as America's representative, or row any man in the United States for that little sum.

Yellow Fever Notes.

Deputy United States Marshal Kirby died at the quarantine hospital, New York, of yellow fever. He contracted the disease while in charge of a schooner—the Albatross—thirteen cases—thirteen white and three colored—were reported at Memphis Monday. Four additional interments—Walter R. Lucas, Wm. H. West, Mrs. W. G. Richardson, David House. The Howards placed thirty additional nurses on duty.

Julian Bedford is ill with a genuine case at Bayleys, Tenn.

At New Orleans, Ed. Weicks aged thirty-four, and Gen. Hood's son aged eight, are the new cases. Gen. Hood's seven-year-old daughter is improving. Alice Williams is dead, aged three years. The board of health urges immediate burials in all cases of yellow fever, and that the practice of advertising funerals and inviting friends be suspended.

The cordial reception that Dr. F. Wilholt's Anti-Periodic or Fever and Ague Tonic has received at the hands of the medical profession in Louisiana certainly proves that it is an excellent remedy, and that the composition of it, as published by its proprietors, Wheelock, Finlay & Co., of New Orleans, is endorsed by them. Against chills and fever, dumb chills and enlarged spleen there is no better remedy in the world. For sale by all druggists.

A MURDERER'S HORRIBLE CONFESSION.

Reading, Pa., Sept. 1.—Charles Drews, under sentence of death as one of the principals in the Raber murder, has made a confession. He says: "I went to Brandt last summer and we sat on the porch; he treated me to beer and both felt its effect; he said I could make money and told how I said I would consider it; finally I asked if he was alone; he replied there were three others with him; he mentioned Hummel and Wise and I said I did not know them; he then ordered to bring them up; I saw them but I only know Wise; from boyhood I knew him; I then

A FAT JOB.

Enjoyed by the Secretary of an Agricultural Society.

Brief Catalogue of the Duties Which He is Expected to Perform.

The secretary of an agricultural society was held, by our reporter to thus soliloquise in view of what would be expected of him at an approaching fair, and how completely he would master all the difficulties that might occur with a satisfaction that no person could appreciate who had never enjoyed the luxury of so desirable an office:

In the first place, good weather was an important consideration, as success would greatly depend upon it. That, of course, could be readily settled by consulting the almanacs and weather prophets, of which there were always plenty at hand. The weather question being satisfactorily disposed of, he felt greatly relieved. The next thing in order was the premium list, which the secretary is supposed to get up entirely himself (the trustees wouldn't be expected to have anything to do with so small a matter as that), and he is expected to know exactly what everybody has to exhibit and to so arrange it that each exhibitor shall get the first premium. That, he felt, was an easy thing to do, as he would find out by the compliments he would probably receive from the first man he met, whose lame mule or something else hadn't been provided for. But he bravely meets the question by referring all such cases to the discretionary committee. Hence he is not disconcerted, but completely happy over his success in preparing a premium list that would suit every possible case that might arise.

The premium list is now out, and we must send one to every person in or out of the county, who ever received a premium or made an exhibition in this county, and especially to those whose claims have been overlooked on former occasions, and write an ample apology to each one for the palpable oversight of the awarding committee or somebody else, all of whom he considered was easy enough done by promising them all a red ribbon this year or else he agrees to leave the county. Also a few dozen letters of condolence and expressions of the kindest regard must be written to those whose heads are supposed to be a little sore from some imaginary cause or neglect, such perhaps as not having the space for exhibition allotted to them that others got, and everybody else in consequence wanted to show their stock of articles, and for which nobody but the secretary is responsible, and ought to rectify, as his "name is on all the cards," all of which, for the glory of the thing, he will acknowledge, and promise to give his personal attention next time. Now he must get out his posters, hand-bills, dodgers, slips, etc., and advertise freely in all the papers without regard to expense,-- which he can afford to do, as the finances, although low, can only be replenished in that manner, a thing that no fair-minded newspaper man will dispute. Every postmaster, township trustee, justice of the peace and other official and prominent citizen living in about twenty-eight counties, must be positively written to and invited to exhibit at the fair, and to post up and distribute various hand bills, premium lists and other documents sent to them from time to time, with certain considerations thereon. The secretary must also know that every country store, mill, livery stable, bill board, cross road, school house, blacksmith shop and other prominent place within sixty miles, has been well supplied for distribution, and an attractive bill posted up conspicuously and kept up until the fair opens, which he blandly admits is easy enough for him to see, or he must admit that he is too stupid for the place, having but very little to do most of the time, except to answer every day some fifteen or twenty letters of enquiries and puzzles about making entries in the different classes, sale of refreshment stands, and privileges for shooting galleries, swings, fat women, headless fowlers, three legged calves, five legged pigs, monkey shows, map renders and such like things without number. The secretary can do all the foregoing easily enough if he is an expert and he ought to be, or he has no business in that office; besides keeping all the records and making some 800 or 1,000 entries for exhibitors, furnishing entry cards and answering questions, not forgetting to notify by writing and sending programmes to all the speed ring men, race horse owners, rubbers and drivers in all the states, including California and the Rocky Mountains, and see to it that the entries are all straight and there is perfect fair play, and that the fastest horse wins, which is apt to be the case every time when "fair play is the jewel."

The secretary has now moved out in the right time to the fair grounds and is ready for business early Monday morning at his office, with a countenance glowing with happiness at the sight of a gentle shower as he expected, just to lay the dust. Things are getting a little lively outside, he is sent for, goes out bunched in the sun or rain to settle disputes and answer questions, standing now at the fair, then everywhere else--in fact he expects to be, and ought to be, present at all times and in all places, and play the agreeable to everybody, a sort of omnipresent general purpose chap, all of which he would be perfectly willing to be and do until the curtain dropped on the last night of the fair if he could only wind up the scene by having the supreme happiness of dining with that prince of physiognomists Col. Sellers at one of his luxuriously and self-satisfied banquets upon turnips and water. Then the measure of the secretary's happiness would be full and everything would be perfectly lovely.

THE FAR WEST.

An Allen County Man Describes His Travels in Kansas, Missouri and Nebraska.

To the Editor of the SENTINEL:

I am pleased to send you an article briefly describing my travels through a portion of the west. I have visited northern Kansas and Missouri and southern Nebraska, and through inquiry and close observation I have ascertained the following facts: The surface of northern Missouri and northern Kansas consists of an undulating prairie, of a fine lime soil from three to four feet deep. There are many rapid, sparkling streams, whose banks are covered for some distance back with timber which supplies the demand of a large portion of the inhabitants. Speaking of Kansas, there is no part of the country that holds forth more inducements to settlers than the northern section, known as the Blue Valley country. The soil is uncultivated for grain or grass. Wide-spreading slopes and ravines, all in all, make a picture as grand as its hills beyond, dotted here and there with trees of various species. The teeming cornfields and the golden patches of grain are indescribable. The valley of the Blue is from two to eight miles wide. The bluffs on either side are not rough and ugly, but gently rising, rounded and finished. Between Irving and Waterville, a distance of ten miles, may be seen the most picturesque part of the valley. The scenery is superb. The river furnishes on past the village, hamlet and farm, the green cortical hills with the blue horizon above them appearing like the massive ocean in a calm. Stretching away in the measureless distance to where the setting sun sinks from sight, to one carpet of green sward dotted at intervals with flowers of various hues, which border on winding wagon roads which intersect each other to puzzle the weary skipper who pilots his prairie schooner over this mysterious sea from which he never returns. It looks to the beholder as if the land had lately been inhabited by an enterprising people who had all gone and left here their meadows and fields, with no marks or records to tell the boundaries or titles. Thus we find to day the counties of Atchison, Brown, Jackson, Vernon, Marshall and Pottawatomie, which comprise the state of the state. There are many beautiful villages, supporting the various branches of trade and manufacture, with ample opportunity for increased enterprises which are being daily advanced. Southern Nebraska is of a more level nature, a fine farming country. Schools and churches have received due attention. Good provision is made for the education of the rising generation. The system of instruction is equal if not superior to the eastern states. The portions of which I speak possess good water and a fine climate, which are essential to good health. Fruits are being cultivated in all parts. The country is being rapidly settled up by a class of people, who have the vim, courage and enthusiasm to make this section of the country one of the finest in the union. This "Great American Desert" seems to be a fertile and productive one. A. J. C.

This morning when Henry Emrich, living on the corner of Madison and Francis streets, got up, he found the kitchen door open, and a little investigation showed that some burglar had forced an entrance and helped themselves to all the eatables in the house; also some crockery, tinware and a large clothes basket, probably used to carry the other articles away. There is no clue to the robbers.

Pauding County Republicans. (Correspondence of the SENTINEL.)

Cecil, O., Sept. 1, 1879.—A meeting of the county Republicans in convention at the hotel in Pauding, August 30th, for the purpose of nominating a county ticket. The nominations were unanimous, the nomination of that for sheriff over which there was a little squabbling. Samuel Tate was nominated on the third ballot. The other member was nominated for commissioner. Henry Krueger was nominated for surveyor. Col. I. N. Alexander, of an aversion, and Col. W. W. W. was nominated and addressed the convention upon the political issues of the day. The weather was fair, the audience very good, and the attendance very good.

A FAT JOB.

Enjoyed by the Secretary of an Agricultural Society.

Brief Catalogue of the Duties Which He is Expected to Perform.

The secretary of an agricultural society was heard by our reporter to thus soliloquize in view of what would be expected of him at an approaching fair, and how completely he would master all the difficulties that might occur with a satisfaction that no person could appreciate who had never enjoyed the luxury of an office:

In the first place, good weather was an important consideration, as success would greatly depend upon it. That, of course, could be readily settled by consulting the almanacs and weather prophet, of which there were always plenty at hand. The next thing in order was the premium list, which the secretary is sure to get up entirely himself (the trustees would be expected to have anything to do with so small a matter as that), and he is expected to know exactly what everybody has to exhibit and to so arrange it that each exhibitor shall get the first premium. That, he felt, was an easy thing to do, as he would find out by the "complaints" he probably receive from the first man he met, whose lame mule or something else hadn't been provided for. But he bravely meets the question by referring all such cases to the disciplinary committee. Hence he is not discomfited, but completely happy over his success in preparing a premium list that would suit every possible case that might arise.

The premium list is now out and we must send one to every person in or out of the county, who ever received a premium or made an exhibition in this county, and especially to those whose claims have been overlooked on former occasions, and write an ample apology to each one for the palpable oversight of the awarding committee or somebody else, all of which he considered was easy enough done by presenting them all a red ribbon. A few years ago he agrees to leave the country. A few days after, a few letters of condolence and expression of the kindest regard must be written to those whose heads are supposed to be a little sore from some imaginary cause or neglect, such perhaps as not having the space for exhibition allotted to them that others got, and everybody else in consequence wanted to show their stock or articles, and for which nobody but the secretary is responsible, and ought to receive, as his "name" on all the bills, all of which, for the glory of the thing, he will acknowledge, and promise to give his personal attention next time. Now he must get out his posters, hand-bills, dodgers, slips, etc., and advertise freely in all the papers without regard to expense; which he can afford to do, as the finances, although low, can only be replenished in that manner, a thing that no fair-minded newspaper man will dispute. Every postmaster, township trustee, justice of the peace and other official and prominent citizen living in about twenty-eight counties, must be positively written to and invited to exhibit at the fair, and to post up and distribute various hand bills, premium lists and other documents sent to them from time to time, with certain conditions thereto. The secretary must also know that every country store, mill, livery stable, hotel, blacksmith shop and other prominent place within sixty miles, has been well supplied for distribution, and an attractive bill posted up conspicuously and kept up until the fair opens, which he blandly admits is easy enough for him to see to, or he must admit that he is too stupid for the place, having but very little to do most of the time except to answer every day some fifteen or twenty letters of enquiry and puzzles about making entries in the different classes, sale of refreshment stands and privileges for shooting galleries, swings, fat women, headless footers, three legged calves, five legged pigs, monkey shows, soap venders and such like things without number. The secretary can do all the foregoing easily enough if he is an expert and he ought to be, or he has no business in that office; besides keeping all the records and making some 800 or 1,000 entries for exhibitors, furnishing entry cards and answering questions—not forgetting to notify by writing and sending programmes to all the press ring men, race horse owners, rubbers and drivers in all the states, including California and the Rocky mountains, and to all the states.

The secretary has now moved out in the right time to the fair grounds and is ready for business early Monday morning at his office, with a countenance glowing with happiness at the sight of a gentle shower as he expects, just to lay the dust. Things are getting a little lively outside, he is sent for, goes off bareheaded in the sun or rain to settle disputes and answer questions, standing now at the fair, then everywhere else—in fact he expects to be, and ought to be, present at all times and in all places, and play the agreeable to everybody, a sort of omnipresent general purpose chap. All of which he would be perfectly willing to be and to do, until the curtain dropped on the last night of the fair, when he could only wind up the scene by having the supreme grand finale of dining with that prince of philosophers Col. Sellers at one of his luxurious and self-satisfied banquets over turnips and water. Then the measure of the secretary's happiness would be full and everything would be perfectly lovely.

THE FAR WEST.

An Allen County Man Describes His Travels in Kansas, Missouri and Nebraska.

To the Editor of the SENTINEL:

I am pleased to send you an article briefly describing my travels through a portion of the west. I have visited northern Kansas and Missouri and southern Nebraska, and through inquiry and close observation I have ascertained the following facts: The surface of northern Missouri and southern Kansas consists of an undulating prairie, or a fine lime soil from three to four feet deep. There are banks covered for some distance back with timber which supplies the demand of a large portion of the inhabitants. Speaking of Kansas, there is no part of the country that holds forth more inducements to settlers than the northern section, known as the Blue Valley country. The soil is unexcelled for grain or grass. Wide-spread slopes and ravines, all in all, make a picture as grand as hills beyond, dotted here and there with trees of various species. The teeming cornfields, and the golden patches of grain, are indescribable. The valley of the Club is from two to eight miles wide. The bluffs on either side are not rough and ugly, but gently rising and sloping. Between Irving and Waterloo, a distance of ten miles, may be seen the most picturesque part of the valley. The scenery is superb. The river rushes on past the village, hamlet and farm, the green conical hills with the blue horizon above them appearing like the massive ocean in a calm. Stretching away in the measureless distance to where the setting sun sinks from sight, to one carpet of green, dotted at intervals with flowers of various hues, which border on winding wagon roads which bind each other to puzzle the weary skipper who pilots his prairie schooner over this mysterious sea, from which he never returns. It looks to the beholder as if the land had lately been inhabited by an enterprising people who had all gone and left their meadows and fields, with no marks or records to tell the boundaries or titles. Thus we find to-day the counties of Atchison, Brown, Jackson, Vernon, Marshall and Pottawatomie, which comprise the garden of the state. There are many beautiful villages, supporting the various branches of trade and manufacture, with ample opportunity for increased enterprises which are being daily advanced. Southern Nebraska is of a more level nature, a fine farming country. Schools and churches have received due attention. Good provision is made for the education of the rising generation. The system of instruction is equal if not superior to the eastern states. The portions of which I speak possess good water and a fine climate, which are essential to good health. Fruit is being cultivated in all parts. The country is being rapidly settled by a class of people, who are energetic, courageous and enthusiastic to make this section of the country one of the finest in the union. This "Great American Desert" seems to be a fertile and productive one. A. J. C.

THE COUNCIL

Takes a Brief Wrestling With the Water Works Question.

Proceedings of the Adjourned Session Last Evening.

The council met in adjourned session last night to hear the reports of the water works committee and water works trustees, and such other resolutions as pertained to the water works project. All the members were present except Mr. Reese.

The reading of the minutes was dispensed with, and the report of the water works trustees was read as follows:

To His Honor the Mayor and the Common Council of the City of Fort Wayne:

Gentlemen—We, the trustees of water works, respectfully report that we have, in accordance with your instructions, advertised the contracts for the water works, including the furnishing and setting of valves and hydrants, until Tuesday, September 9th, and have prepared and sent to the same, all forms of contract to all the principal contractors and pipe founders in the United States. We now submit the notice to contractors, calling their attention to the fact that the contracts will be advertised to-morrow, and drawing up a resolution prepared as stated in said notice.

We would particularly call your attention to the fact that we have called upon and procuring the land for the location of the reservoir. The final drawings and specifications of which can be seen in the office of the city engineer, Engineer Brackenridge. We suggest that you authorize us to ask for and submit to you propositions for the different tracts of land which we have procured, and that we proceed with the work this fall, there being yet sufficient time to do a considerable amount of work.

If we are soon to expect proposals for the work, it is important that there should be money in the treasury to purchase the same. We, therefore, deem it important that water works bonds should be negotiated at an early date.

Respectfully,
CHRISTIAN BOSEKER,
CHARLES MCCULLOCH,
HENRY MONING.

On motion of Capt. Hettler the report was ordered to be spread on the records. The specifications for sealed proposals were then read. They will be found in the advertisement elsewhere.

Mr. Hettler moved to adopt the specifications as those under which they would advertise for proposals. Carried.

The water works committee also offered a resolution to advertise for proposals for a reservoir, etc., under the above specification. Adopted.

The city attorney reported his opinion as follow on sections 7 and 13 of the water works law, as requested by the council at their last meeting:

To His Honor the Mayor and Common Council:

It is my opinion that the power committee, and the trustees of water works, by the provisions of section seven of the act relating to the construction of water works, etc., passed March 29, 1879, relate to and only empower the trustees to be responsible after the completion of said works, and that the power conferred upon said trustees by the provisions of section 13 of said act, relate to the power to be exercised by the trustees in the process of the construction of said water works. Respectfully submitted,

HENRY COLECK,

City Attorney.

The council then took a recess of five minutes to prepare resolutions.

The committee on fire department reported rules and regulation, which were read by sections and some changes and alterations made after, which they were adopted.

A resolution was then read instructing the mayor, the city attorney, the water works trustees and the water works committee to examine and select a good location for a reservoir and to solicit bids for the same and report at the next council meeting on the 4th of October.

Mr. Higginbotham, an old settler of Fort Wayne, is in town after a prolonged absence in the far west.

The SENTINEL's columns are crowded with news and advertising—hence it can find no room for platforms every day.

The SENTINEL will be printed on the new double cylinder press to-morrow. Its capacity is 5,000 impressions, both sides, per hour.

A. C. Remond leaves for New York to-night and will return in about two weeks, when he will pass a day or two here and then he himself to Arkansas.

Mr. Chittenden moved to amend the resolution by striking out the mayor, city attorney and water works committee, leaving it in the hands of the trustees.

Mr. Hettler said it was illegal and in direct conflict with the law.

Mr. Chittenden said he made the amendment to establish a precedent. He wanted the trustees to loose from the apon strings of the chairman of the water works committee.

The next attraction in the amusement line will be Joe Jefferson, who will give Rip at the Academy on the evening of the 16th inst. This will be his first visit to Fort Wayne in four years.

Miss Alice Hill will shortly open a private school in this city. She is a graduate of the Fort Wayne High School and of Mt. Holyoke Academy, has had experience in teaching, and is abundantly qualified to teach the young idea how to shoot in the most approved manner.

The resolution, as amended, was then adopted.

A resolution was then offered and passed instructing the printing committee to have a number of the new rules for the fire department printed and framed.

The council then took a recess until Thursday evening.

The Cincinnati Enquirer prints the following special from Sydney, O.:

Dr. John M. Carter, a well known physician of this city, has filed a petition with the clerk of the court, for a divorce from his wife, Mary Catherine Carter, charging her with adultery with one H. C. Meeker, a traveling salesman, for a Fort Wayne, Ind., firm. Dr. Carter has had knowledge of his wife's alleged unfaithfulness for a year, and on occasion a few months ago left his home with a brace of revolvers, with the determination of killing Meeker at sight, but after shooting over him, he was so much frightened, and ran away to let the law of our courts settle the matter. Mrs. Carter is a pretty little woman of about thirty years of age, and is well known and liked with her parents in Richmond, Ind., where she has been ever since her husband left her in position of the wife of a traveling salesman.

Dr. Carter, with his wife, has been in the city for a week, and is now in the hospital.
